T. & B. V. TRAINS ARE DETOURING THROUGH HERE

The floods have caused serious trouble on the entire line of the Trinity and Brazos Valley Railroad, and they are detouring their trains over the Houston and Texas Central from Dallas to Houston. Their southbound passenger passed through this city at 11 o'clock this morning.

A. & M. IN DARKNESS

The steam plant at the A. and M. College was put out of commission early last evening and as a result the school was in darkness last night and also without water. The tunnel carrying the steam pipes to the dormitories poured a flood of water into the steam plant until it stood two or three feet deep, forcing a shut down.

The water was turned on at noon today and enough furnished for the noon meal, but cut off again immediately. A report from the steam plant at 2 o'clock this afternoon stated that everything possible was being done to be ready to run by night and the manager was hopeful that the experience of last night would not be repeated.

SAM B. WILSON HAD FLOOD LOSS

The unprecedented rain of yesterday and last night caused bad leaks on both sides of Sam B. Wilson's store, soaking a lot of goods and causing quite a serious loss. The greatest damage was in the ladies' ready-to-wear and millinery departments.

TELEGRAPHIC FLASHES

New York, Dec. 4.—Tyson & Co., theatrical ticket agents charged with grand larceny, file briefs before Magistrate Deuel in their own defense. Decision is expected next Monday. Estimated about $40,000 involved.

Washington, Dec. 4.—With the new Congress only three days old, it is rumored that another money trust investigation is about to be started by a joint Senate and House committee. Its purpose is to pave the way for enactment by Congress of legislation giving the Federal government power to regulate the issue of railroad stock and bonds.

New York, Dec. 4.—John Burroughs Mitchell, Mayor-elect of New York, has 2,500 job-hunting letters awaiting him on his arrival from Panama, where he went to outline the policies of the administration and consider appointments. He is expected to name a man to be selected police commissioner soon after his arrival.

New York, Dec. 4.—Several leading Wall street firms are preparing circulars to be mailed to customers assuring them of a big improvement in business conditions after January 1, next. They declared that there would be a big boom if the Interstate Commerce Commission would let railroads make remunerative charges for the transportation of merchandise.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY HONORS

Thousands of students, members of the board of regents, faculty members and alumni of the University of California are paying tribute today to Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst, whom they hail as the greatest educational benefactor in California. This is the seventy-first birthday of Mrs. Hearst. She is the mother of William Randolph Hearst and is interested in a large number of charitable enterprises all over the United States. She has given largely to educational institutions and is devoted to the interests of her son. It was his mother's encouragement that inspired Mr. Hearst to enter so extensively into the newspaper field that he is today regarded as one of the foremost factors in American journalism.
